

Pork Butt Weekly Write-Up

Intro

Good week in the NFL as several games came down to the last possession, some serious hits (for modern football), and low scoring qb's not named Burrow, Jackson, or Williams. TE's are starting to get a little turned on as their production kicked up a notch, but the RB's held scoring low as they had a sub-par outing.

The Goddamn Jets (who just fired their HC) lost to the Vikings as Rodgers showed he is 40 (which might be 60 in NFL years). The Vikings are showing that they are for real with that victory (keep an eye on the Sam Darnold injury though). Da Bears easily managed the Red Rocket led Panthers. Packers eked by the Rams in a game they should have lost, but the Rams are garbage. A blocked punt gave the G-men the late win over the Seahawks (it was a thing of beauty). The final winning team was the Cowboys who showed that an overpaid, mediocre Dak can still find ways to win as they outlasted the Steelers late in the game. What is going on in Vegas? Raiders were not able to beat the orange retro Broncos as Minshew proved in this game that he is a decent backup, but not a QB1.

Game of the Week

Brandon vs Sky

Wow what a game. I was at bowling, watching MNF, keeping an eye on the ticker in the RSO app to see how this would shake down. This was not a back-and-forth type of game; this was a close game from the kickoff to the final whistle. It came down to MNF where Brandon had to overcome the six-point deficit. RSO had the projection on this game 134-133.5 Sky. However, with Hunt and Kamara going on MNF, Brandon was able to eke out the victory 136.50-134. Moving Sky down to third seed, and Bradon in the two seed.

Matchups

Dave vs Mike

The season is looking grim for the 2023 champion. Missing CMC is rearing its ugly head as Mike is struggling to score points. Lack of points was something Dave did not lack this week, cruising to a lopsided victory 156-98. Dave's 156 was the league's highest points this week.

Andrew vs Jake

A brotherly-in-law battle came to town, and boy howdy were the haymakers being thrown. I am sure somewhere at the hoe-down pleasantries were exchange, and Andrew got the first haymaker in. Not to go down without knee pads, Jake fought back, getting the game to single digits. However, Andrew's "Worthy-ness" was too much for Jake as he fell 147-128. Throwing Jake directly into the lead for The Sack.

Josh vs Jason

The final score is lying in this game. This was not a matchup; it was a brutal beat down. Yes, Jason tried to compete, but Josh's fifty-point lead at one point was just too much for Jason. The final in this one was 120-105 Josh, sending Jason to unfamiliar territory, the cellar of the league.

Dino vs Rich

Dino was next in line to de-flower Rich as he remains the leagues only unbeaten. The chastity belt was too much for Dino (seriously, Rich has that thing on tighter than a good thong). Rich dominated this matchup, as he remains unbeaten and cruised to the league's best record with a 150.5-104 slaughter.

Playoffs

If the playoffs start this week, here are the six teams that would get in. These are in no order, just top six teams. Next week I will start adding seeds to this so we can get a picture of who is playing who.

Rich

Brandon

Sky

Dave

Dino

Josh

The Sack

The race for the best hat on Earth has begun, and these teams are leading the way. Yes, both teams have a 1-4 record (weird considering Jake leads the league in scoring), but Andrew holds the tiebreaker over Jake, making Jake the lead candidate.

- Jake
- Andrew

Toppers

POS	NAME	POINTS
QB	Burrow	41
RB	Swift	19
WR	Chase	41
TE	Kittle	20
FLEX	Bowers	23
D/ST	Da Bears	16
K	Tucker & Fairbairn	11
TEAM	Here's.... Caleb!	156

Bottoms

POS	NAME	POINTS
QB	Darnold	2
RB	Achane	2
WR	Deebo	2
TE	Kincaid, Gesicki, Henry	5
FLEX	Jennings	2
D/ST	Buffalo	5
K	Aubrey, Myers, Boswell	5
TEAM	Mike	98

Draft Order

1. Jake
2. Andrew
3. Dino (via Jason)
4. Mike
5. Josh
6. Dino
7. Dave
8. Sky
9. Brandon
10. Rich

Final Handy

The bye-weeks are here, the bye-weeks are here. Time to see who can make ground and see who loses said ground. I have always said (and believe) the season is won or lost in The Grind (weeks 5-10) as players enjoy their week off, managers must finagle their lineups to remain competitive, snooze now, and kiss it goodbye. Rich is the pristine one, the unbeaten, the best, ok I might have misspoken there. Anyway, he has avoided defeat for five weeks now, a complete turnaround from last year. Jake still has the highest points scored, but the win-loss record does not reflect that! Andrew was able get off the schneid by getting a victory, gonna need a heck of playoff run starting now if he wants to save the season (same goes for Jake). With that, may your beer be cold, Karma finds you today, and fuck your team....'mish out.