

Pork Butt Playoff Write-Up

The Plot

Well, well, well here we are in the briar patch. Six teams enter, four will square off this week, while two go on holiday. Fireworks are sure to be seen as points that will be scored, anxiety levels will be high, as will second guessing roster moves. Or, I have no fucking clue and a team or two will shit the bed, who fucking knows, but I do know none of us came here for the smell of balls.

The Crew

Jason

A franchise that is quite familiar with post season play as he makes his fourth trip in as many years. His team's performance is down prior to other years, but he has heated up since week eight. Being led by Josh Allen, Josh Jacobs, and Amon-Ra St. Brown, he has the upper hand in his round one matchup. However, every superhero has a weakness, and his weakness is post-season play. The previous three trips he had not made it past the first round.

Dave

One of two first timers to the playoffs and is about to embark on uncharted territory. His team is currently holding a seven-game losing streak and one of the league's coldest offenses. Scoring has left the building. I do not see this team moving on to the next round.

Jake

The other newcomer to the post season is about to venture into uncharted territory. The team ran into some bad luck during The Grind but managed to sneak in a few wins during The Stretch and secured the three seeds. His team is getting hot at the right time and has enough firepower to move to the second round.

Brandon

A familiar face to our post season (he has a suite on the first floor) and hoping to advance to the second round for the second time in franchise history. However, this might be his weakest team to date and is currently performing at sub-par levels. I do not think he will move on, but I do think he will score some points this week.

The Set

Jake #3 v Brandon #6

Breaking down the numbers this looks like a close matchup 128-116 Jake. However, there are some guys on bye for Jake, and Brandon is insipid, so I am thinking this one is going to be 95-78 Jake.

Dave #5 v Jason #4

This might be the matchup Jason has been waiting for as his team is playing well, and Dave's team is colder than a shultzzy in December. I predict this one 140-102 Jason, as he breaks the playoff curse.

Final Handy

Another post season awaits us as we go blindly into the light of the beast. Two virgins are going to get soiled by two pimps. The question is, do the pimp hands come out to slap the bitches, or do the bitches counter with nut punches? We will know soon, very soon fuckers. With that, may your beer be cold, Karma finds you today, and fuck your team....'mish out.
