

Pork Butt Weekly Write-Up

The Synopsis

Not going to spend time rehashing what our beloved teams did last week, aint got time for that. But what I do have time for is a few drinks while I finish the hubbub of Christmas and all the labor that goes into stress fest, we all call Christmas.

The Known

Rich v Jason

Fresh off the round one bye Rich was looking to come into the ring and revenge his only regular season loss, which happened to be at the hands of Jason. Jason was riding the hottest offense in the playoffs and was looking to prove to Rich that the week eight upset was no fluke. Proving that having a hot roster is sometimes better than being good, Jason keeps the dice rolling (bet on black they say) and he jumped out to a decisive lead early. Rich did not take it laying down and scored mightily to get within ten points. At that point, Jason's team found another gear and hit overdrive finishing the match with a 218-129 victory and punching his ticket to the Parlor.

Brandon v Sky

Sky was the other team coming off their well earned first round bye and looking to continue the Cinderella season. Brandon has been playing some quality ball over the last few weeks and is looking to keep that streak going. Sky scored first in this matchup, but he did not score enough to pull away as with each passing quarter Brandon closed the gap. In the fourth quarter Brandon hit full stride and rode the quality coached (and good luck wishes from Josh) to finish the game 169-115. With the victory, Brandon earned a spot in the Parlor, while Sky moves down to play for third place.

The Unknown

Jason v Brandon

Two teams enter the Parlor for their first time as they square off for the coveted title of League Champ. Jason has been riding the hottest offense since week 10 (especially in the playoffs) while Brandon is proving strategy and luck works when they decide to marry.

Sky v Rich

In this matchup we find our two top ranked teams playing for the semi-honorable third place (at least the spot plays) as they both tripped in the last round. Whichever team rebounds and takes this game it will be quite an accomplishment considering how the spot they were both in last year.

Final Handy

. With that, may your beer be cold, Karma finds you today, and fuck your team....'mish out.
