

Pork Butt Weekly Write-Up

Intro

Can we all exhale and rejoice that the 2025 season is finally here, I know I did. Moving on, Packers showed up and beat a down trending Detroit team. Raiders showed promise as they won their opening game against the Patriots. Vikings mounted a nice fourth quarter comeback to beat Da Bears (ala 2018 Bears-Packer's style). Seattle choked and failed to secure their victory over the 49ers. Over in Philly the Cowboys could not find a way to beat last year's Champions, as they lost their opener. Giants, holy shit do they suck, as they are my front runner for worst team in the NFL this year. Giants failed to score a touchdown as they lost badly to Washington. Right, let us get into the nuts and butts of this week's recap, and a glimpse into next week's fuckery.

Game of the Week

Jake v Brandon

This turned out to be a tennis match as both teams exchanged lead (there were four lead changes during the match). Jake was a nine-point favorite, and the O/U was two hundred. As I mentioned earlier, the lead changes were quite exciting as neither team was willing to rollover nor give up. Jake was able to overcome the dismal performance by Dak (a killer 7 points earned) to secure the victory 135-108, beating the nine-point projection. Hopefully, future GOTW's are as back and forth as this was, both teams battled, but two men enter the bedroom, one man leaves the bedroom.

Snore of the Week

Chaka v Andrew

I thought this was going to be a matchup with some fireworks, flair, and excitement. This was anything but those things. This matchup was plague with underperformers (11 out of 20 players scored lower than ten points). Those players were injured early (Worthy) or simply did not show up (Chase, Hill, and Burrow) which led to the snore fest this game was. It was close, Chaka eked out his first victory as new GM. Andrew battled, but the lack of performers was the downfall as Chaka claimed an eight-point victory, 87-75.

Matchups

Mike v Dave

Long time adversaries squared off against each other in another exciting matchup. Mike jumped out to a forty-two-point lead as they headed into the fourth quarter. Dave, clueless as to the ass beating he was getting, decided it would come down to Monday Night Football. Mike sent out his defense to hold the massive lead, but like the Bears on MNF, the defense failed. Dave rallied behind Williams (25 points), and the Bears' defense (18.50 points) to comeback and snag the victory 126-116.

Dino v Jason

Co-workers by day, competitors by night as we saw these two toed up to duke it out, donnybrook style. Early in the game both teams were scrappy, trading Rabbit punches, and toe stomps as the lead waned from one team to the other. Then, Josh Allen entered the game and produced a week high forty-five points as he led the Bills to a comeback win over the Ravens, and secured the victory for Jason, 166-113.

Rich v Sky

A matchup of last year's two best regular season teams was, on paper, a good matchup. Rich rode the back of Hurts (27 points), and Sutton (18 points) as he jumped out to a commanding lead early. Rumor has it Sky yelled out "Not so fast my friend" and told Jackson to take the field and bring the victory home. Jackson responded with a thirty-three-point performance, followed by Harrison Jr's eighteen points, and topped off with a solid eighteen from Barkley. It was too much for Rich to overcome as he lost the battle, 130-150.

Next Week

Dave v Brandon

RSO has Brandon a two-point favorite in this matchup. I must agree as I pick Brandon to rebound from his week one loss and take the victory here.

Jason v Jake

Jason continues his winning ways and hands Jake his first loss of the season. RSO is giving Jason a thirty-one-point victory projection,

Mike v Andrew

RSO is projecting Mike will take the victory next week. I do not see Andrew putting up more points than Mike in this one, as Mike takes the victory easily.

Rich v Chaka

RSO is projecting Chaka to win (122-110), but I see Rich's offense is too much for Chaka this week as Rich wins by a landslide.

Sky v Dino

Dino battles, but Sky's talented team is too much, in the end, Sky walks away with the win and remains undefeated. RSO agrees with me as they have Sky the winner by thirty-eight.

Playoffs

Fuck off with that, it is too early.

The Sack

The race for the best hat on Earth has begun, and these teams are leading the way.

- Andrew
- Mike
- Rich
- Brandon

Week Two Records

TEAM	W	L
Andrew	1	3
Brandon	4	0
Chaka	0	0
Dave	0	4
Dino	4	0
Jake	1	3
Jason	3	1
Mike	2	2
Sky	1	0
Rich	3	1

Toppers and Shitters

Toppers

POS	NAME	TEAM	POINTS
QB	Allen	Jason	45
RB	Henry	Jake	29
WR	Samuel & Nacua	Mike & Jason	23
TE	Bowers	Dave	15
FLEX	McCaffrey	Mike	22
D/ST	Bears	Dave	18.50
K	Fairbairn	Jason	14

Shitters

POS	NAME	TEAM	POINTS
QB	Prescott & Burrow	Jake & Andrew	7
RB	Monangai	Dave	2
WR	Worthy	Andrew	0
TE	Andrews	Chaka	1
FLEX	Johnson	Andrew	0
D/ST	Texans	Chaka	5.50
K	Gay	Dino	3

Draft Order

Please see the “Playoffs” section.

Final Handy

I must admit it feels good to get back into the swing of our league, the writings, second guessing, WTF moments (here is looking at you A.J. Brown), the ups and down of each week. As we look at last week's results, we must ask, sure hope this season goes the way you planned. Injury bug has already hit (Worthy, Kittle just to name a few) and so have the surprises both bad and good (Dak and Burrow's seven points, Bear's defense putting up eighteen and half points), which gives me a glimpse into how this season is going to play out. With that, may your beer be cold, Karma finds you today, and fuck your team....'mish out.