

Pork Butt Playoff Write-Up

The Set

#3 Sky v #6 Chaka

The numbers did not disappoint in this game as we were presented with a shootout. Chaka jumped out to a big lead, held said lead for a few minutes then the hammer, and its name was Sky, fell. Overcoming Chaka's lead, he quickly found himself leading with one quarter left to go. Chaka was chasing thirty points heading into the final stretches. With two minutes left, he was down by eight points, and his running back was in the red zone. If the running back caught a touchdown Chaka would pull off the victory by two points. The play developed, Tua checks off Achane, throws to the tight end, touchdown, ending Chaka's comeback and 2025 season. Miami never saw the field (and Warren was not utilized in the last two minutes) the rest of the game.

#4 Dave v #5 Brandon

I stated that this was going to be a close game and boy howdy was I not wrong. I lost count of lead changes after five and figured I would just watch as these two stood toe-to-toe. Dave jumped out to a lead, Brandon quickly countered, taking the lead. Not to be held down, Dave countered, scored, and took the lead. In the third quarter Brandon grabbed the lead, held it and entered the fourth quarter with it. When the quarter started Dave was trailing 106.5-83. As the fourth quarter ticked down Dave clawed his way back and with a minute left in garbage time Dave had a .5 lead. Dak dropped back, dumped a pass to Lamb, securing the win for Dave 110-106.5.

Mish Picks

Holy shit I got the picks right. I can honestly say I went out on a limb with the picks, and it paid off. Heading into round two might be a bit tougher but I am sure what I choose will not happen. For now, though, fuck it, I am claiming it.

Final Handy

Last year's champion has been dethroned ensuring that we will have a first-time league champ for the 2025 season. The first round was filled with excitement and close calls. Two teams move on to the next round and have some prep to do.

Overall, we had some solid coaching with the teams, but there is still more work to do. With that, may your beer be cold, Karma finds you today, and fuck your team....'mish out.
