

Pork Butt Playoff Write-Up

The Outcome

#4 Dave v #1 Jason

When this began Jason had jumped out to a respectable forty-six-point lead and only used two players to achieve that. Dave came back, took the lead, and held it heading into the fourth quarter. Jason was able to overcome that ten-point lead and finished taking the win, 151.5-142. Dave blew by his weekly average to make this a close match, but Jason's team was just too powerful as this victory moved him into the championship.

#2 Jake v #3 Sky

My prediction was that Jake was going to get a lead, hold the lead, and play for the title. For most of this matchup my prediction was holding firm, until the fourth quarter comeback by Sky. Heading into the fourth, Jake had a slim one-point lead. At the end of the fourth, Sky had covered and surpassed that one point led to secure the victory 163.5-121, and punching his ticket to play in the finals.

Final Handy

The final week of the season is upon us and the championship is set. Overall, it has been a great round two of the playoffs as both games were tightly matched (even though the final score may not reflect it). With that, may your beer be cold, Karma finds you today, and fuck your team....'mish out.
