

Pork Butt Playoff Write-Up

The Final Dance

#1 Jason v #3 Sky

The battle for the crown is upon us as two of the league's top offenses square off in the final dance of the year. Jason brings that offense that averages 155.8 a week against Sky's 146 average. History has shown that each team can eclipse their weekly average and break the two-hundred barrier, as I do not see that happening this week. I do believe this will be a close game, and I also believe Jason gets the playoff curse off his back and becomes this year's champion.

The Consolation

#2 Jake v #4 Dave

In other news, we have these two teams fighting for the third and final spot in the money round. Jake is the favorite here as he has the most efficient offense, but do not count Dave out with his opportunistic offense. It should be a close game but Jake takes the third spot this season with the victory.

Final Handy

The season comes down to this week as we look to crown a new, and first-time champion. Buckle up as these should be close, wild games. With that, may your beer be cold, Karma finds you today, and fuck your team....'mish out.
